Plant ROUND HILL-DROP GRADED CORN

Save $1.25 per Bu. More

Most farmers plant flat, edge-drop corn, because they don't know about hill-drop. That's the only reason it's cheaper. These round kernels make the same or better corn than the flat kernels—the only difference is they weren't squeezed on the ear. All graded perfectly uniform to go through your planter perfectly. Plant more A. per bu. Stands early cold weather better. Planting plates cost only 60c ea. (First bu. of hill-drop saves you enough to buy them.)

SPECIAL DISCOUNTS

10c BU. DISCOUNT FOR CASH—If you send cash in full with order instead of $1.00 down, you may deduct 15c per bu. from price.

10c BU. DISCOUNT ON 5 BU. ORDERS OR MORE—Buying in quantity saves you another 10c per bu.

State Certified Corn At Cheaper Prices If You Want It!

We don't recommend the planting of state certified corn, but grow some for folks who want it. It's no trick for us with our strict growing rules to pass the rules necessary to get certification. As we do not consider them as good as Mule-Hybrid varieties, we SELL THEM MUCH CHEAPER. SEE OUR PRICES below before you buy, if you want State or Federal numbers.

96 Bu. Per Acre

"Your No. 129 made 96 bushels per acre on my farm and outyielded (a $7.50 hybrid name omitted intentionally) by 29 bushels per acre."—G. C. Schoening, Carson, Iowa.

Outyielded 4 $7.50 Hybrids

"Your 129 S outyielded the four $7.50 hybrids at least by 10 bushels per acre, so naturally I'm placing my order for my entire acreage next year."—R. E. Parkes, Malvern, Iowa.

Mrs. Henry Bright, Pontiac, Mich., by a field of MULE - HYBRID corn. Yield — over 100 bu. A. Says they will never plant any other corn but Mule-Hybrid, now.

Mule-Hybrid Likes Hot Weather

"I planted your No. 116 this year and 3 other well known hybrids. No. 116 is far superior in quality and yield. It stood the hot, dry weather remarkably well. It's corn anyone can be proud to raise. Everyone inquired about it."—W. M. Schwartz, Blairstown, Ia.

72 Bu. Per Acre in Nebraska

"We planted your 116 corn on real poor soil and it still yielded 72 bu. per acre. I had 129 R that yielded 100 bu. to the acre. The 100 acre field of your No. 116 yielded about 70 bu. per acre. I planted 22 bu. of your corn. I have bought corn from you for 25 years and my corn always outyielded my neighbors. I will need 30 bu. for 1941."—Martin McShane, Omaha, Nebr.

80 Bu. Per Acre in Missouri

"I tried your MULE-HYBRID last year and was very well pleased. Had an average yield of 80 bu. per acre. Beat Mo. 8 by 20 bushels per acre."—G. T. Miller, Bernie, Mo.

Official Test—96.8 Bu. Per Acre

"On Waukesha loam in the official Guthrie County yield test, Mule-Hybrid made 96.8 bu. per acre with your No. 129 series."—Paul Herrick, Guthrie Center, Ia.

Best Feed Corn

"We planted your Mule-Hybrid alongside several other brands and Mule-Hybrid outyielded the others by 10 to 15 bu. per A. The Mule-Hybrid was nice and dry too, and was the BEST FEED CORN of the group. This hybrid does everything you say it does."—Mrs. Helen Reimers, Lake Park, Iowa.
